TWO MINUTES TO PRETTY HAIR

If you have time to brush your teeth, you can do this little stylist trick. (Good on any hair: short, long, curly, straight—whatever!)

Just twist and pin up one side. "It's hot now!" says Nicholas Penna Jr., owner of Salon Capri in Newton Highlands, Massachusetts. His tips:

1 Prep the front. With dry hair, make a side part and work a little texturizer like L'Oréal Paris Studio Line Unkempt Out of Bed Texturizer ($5, at drugstores) into the front section (bangs, too).

2 Do the twist. (Or don't, and skip to step three!) Create a roll by twisting the front section back and away from your face. "The tighter you twist, the more retro it will look," says Penna. Keep it loose for a more boho look like Diane Kruger's.

3 Pin it down. Slip a bobby pin into place, then lock it down by putting a second one through your hair and over the first, creating an X. Spritz with hairspray to keep it all together.
