BACK BAY

Stop going to Supercuts

With all the options in Back Bay, you're bound to find the right salon.

There's no area in Boston that's overflowing with hair salons like Back Bay. Newbury Street is a veritable pu-pu platter of hair care, ranging from luxurious spas and salons to the occasional bargain chains. Here's our crib sheet if you happen to be searching for a trim in the Back Bay area.

Ultra-Luxe

For those with more budget flexibility, try Megan Graham Beauty, where colorist extraordinaire Megan Graham is known as the golden child for those with golden locks. She's also known for her master hair extensions. Also popular is Mizu in the Mandarin Oriental Boston. Style director Louise Rusk is known for the Rusk hair care brand you see on the shelves of salons.

SalonCapri does some fancy updos, but you can also get a regular cut. / NICOLAUS CZARNECKI

Cult Favorites

At Patrice Vinci Salon, Everett native (and best friend/frequent hairstylist to "Grey's Anatomy" star Ellen Pompeo) Patrice Vinci is the go-to stylist for stars filming in Boston, while at SalonCapri, those needing an updo can visit Graziella Lembo, also known for being one of Boston's finest experts in the art of hair stitching.

Budget Friendly

Sure, Back Bay may not be the cheapest place for a cut, but in a sea of $100+ haircuts, you can still find some cheaper options if you know where to look. Zen Hair in Kenmore Square is a hidden gem known for cuts around $40. Also popular is Dellaria Salons, whose Newbury Street outpost can have you in and out for $50.
